DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of the Restriction Requirement, mailed on October 8th, 2003, is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the two inventions are "related as disclosed" and are not "independent" or "distinct". This is not found persuasive because the Examiner has already stated, in the Restriction Requirement, the basis upon which a subcombination-combination will be deemed "distinct", and for which a Restriction Requirement is proper. Further, the Examiner presented reasons why the inventions are distinct, which is in accordance with MPEP 806.05 c.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 6-8 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-2 of U.S. Patent No. 6,494,061 in view of Bartholomew (US. Pat. No. 1,959,328).

The claims of 6,494,061 recite all that is recited in the instant claims, except there may be no articulation that that the trough member (which corresponds to the claimed "elongate member") is curved. However, Bartholomew's disclosure provides evidence that curved troughs for conveying formable (or molten) glass is known (See fig. 1) Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to curve the trough claimed in US. Pat. No. 6,494,061, since curvature of such troughs are known, and in order to facilitate the gravitational sliding of the molten glass from the inlet to the outlet.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bartholomew (US. Pat. No. 1,959,328).

Bartholomew discloses nearly all that is recited in the claims, since it discloses a conduit (corresponding to the claims "elongate member") that would be capable of conveying glass gobs, which is presumably relatively fixed, curved and which is inclined downwardly from inlet to outlet. The conduit has a V-shaped cross-section at the outlet.

end which is joined at the bottom ends in a rounded bight (see figs). While there may be no specific articulation that the legs are such that at the upper ends the distance is greater than a width of the largest glass gob, and the bight has a radius smaller than that of a smallest size of the gobs in the range of gob sizes, this is not deemed to patentably distinguish the claims from the art because the apparatus of Bartholomew, just by nature of the V-shaped cross-section, could obviously accommodate glass gobs having a diameter which would be larger than the radius of the rounded bight, and such glass gobs would also, obviously, be able to be received between the upper-most free ends of the V-shaped, cross-section of the conduit.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 9-14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
